TISS
(Tsukuba International Social Studies)

Bachelor of Arts in International Social Sciences

English-medium bachelor's degree program in which students can obtain a degree in the social sciences, covering areas in political science, economics, sociology, and law, from the College of Social Sciences or the College of International Relations

Course catalogue

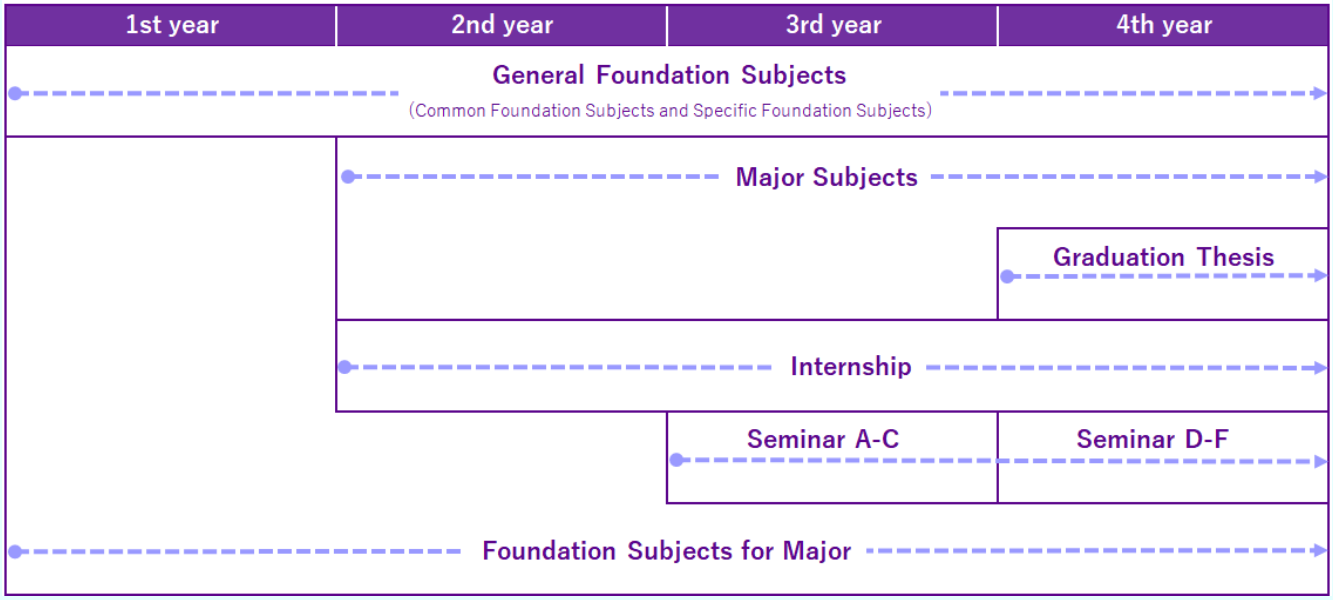

Courses - Examples

Economics	・Introduction to Economics ・History of Economic Thought
Law	・Japanese Law ・International Human Rights Law
Political Science	・Japan and the World ・Japanese Politics
Sociology	・Introduction to Sociology ・Sociology of Migration

The program aims to equip you with a broad set of tools to understand Japanese society and the world.

Curriculum

Four Year Timeline

In TISS Program, students begin with introductory courses on international social studies and then pursue their chosen field. Expert professors mentor them and facilitate seminars to help them complete their graduation thesis.

Tsukuba Model United Nations

Model United Nations (MUN) is a simulation of the United Nations in which students learn to negotiate and debate.

The Tsukuba MUN group has participated in conferences in the U.S., with some financial support provided by TISS.

Internship

Students often go on internships around the world, and, under certain conditions, they can receive credits for their internship activities.

Maggi Oinam attending an awareness program held by Women Action for Development (WAD) at Chingamakha, Imphal West Manipur

Students' Voice

Jazmine

"There are students and professors who have different backgrounds in TISS.
Go out of your comfort zone and interact with everybody at the university!"

Check out Jazmine's video

For more "Voices of International Students"

Program Highlights

- Small interactive classes with individualized support
- Japanese language courses available
- Broad, interdisciplinary curriculum
- Diverse thesis and research areas such as Social Media, Gender Studies, Japanese Law and Policy, International Law, and Economic Policy
- Strong record of admission to leading graduate programs
  (e.g., University of Tsukuba, University of Tokyo, and UC Berkeley)
- Successful career placements in Japan and internationally
  (e.g., Asahi Kasei and UNICEF)

Admission

Application Guidelines & Online Counseling

Key dates
Online application period	Until November 19
Notification of application number	Early January
Notification of first stage screening results	Mid-February
Payment period for second screening	Mid-February
Second stage screening/Individual Interview	Late February-Early March
Notification of final results	End of March
Admissions procedures	Mid-April
Enrollment date	September 1
Entrance ceremony / Orientation	September

Location

Pathway Example

1st year	2nd year	3rd year	4th year
Mandatory subjects	MUN participation Major subjects	Internship Seminar Major subjects	Fieldwork Seminar Graduation thesis Job hunting

Employment in a Japanese/international company

Fees

Tuition waiver

Scholarship

Housing

【Contact】
jinsya-g30@un.tsukuba.ac.jp

YouTube

Instagram

X

IMAGINE THE FUTURE.

University of Tsukuba